

Anna Moretti

Anna Moretti is Assistant Professor at the Department of Management, Ca' Foscari University of Venice. Her research scope encompasses a range of topics listing among them: network governance, organizations as political systems, social movements.

From 2014 she is responsible for external relationships of the CAMI - Centre for Automotive and Mobility Innovation (Department of Management, Venice Ca' Foscari University). She is scientific coordinator of the National Observatory of Automotive Suppliers in Italy since 2016. From 2013 she teaches marketing and management for undergraduate students of Venice Ca' Foscari University, and from 2014 she teaches Economics and Management of Innovation for graduate students at Venice Ca' Foscari University.

She has been invited lecturer within the PhD course in Management since 2014, at Venice Ca' Foscari University, giving a lecture on "Innovation Networks", and part of the PhD faculty since 2018.